Part 2: Informed Consent, Assumption of Risk, and Release of Liability

1. The Services

Fluxline Resonance Group, LLC, doing business as Fluxline ("Fluxline," "we," "us") provides personal training and wellness coaching ("Services") to you ("Client," "you") on the terms described here and in Fluxline's Terms of Use. This document applies specifically to personal training and wellness sessions, in addition to those Terms.

2. Informed Consent

2.1 Nature of the activity. Personal training and wellness coaching may include physical exercise, strength and conditioning work, stretching, movement assessment, and related coaching activities. You understand that these activities are physically demanding and involve a risk of injury.

2.2 Not medical care. Personal training and wellness coaching are not medical care, physical therapy, or a substitute for the advice of a physician. We do not diagnose, treat, or provide medical advice. You are encouraged to consult a qualified health professional before beginning any exercise program, especially if you have a pre-existing medical condition, are pregnant, or have any concern about your ability to safely participate.

2.3 Your health information. Your answers in Part 1 of this packet are part of your representations under this Section. You represent that you have disclosed in Part 1, and to us directly, any medical condition, injury, medication, or physical limitation that could affect your ability to safely participate in the Services, and that the information you have given us is accurate and complete. You agree to tell us promptly if anything about your health changes after you sign.

3. Assumption of Risk

3.1 Risks you are accepting. You understand and voluntarily accept that participating in personal training and wellness coaching carries inherent risks, including but not limited to: muscle strains, sprains, and other soft-tissue injuries; joint injuries; falls; bruising; cardiovascular events, including in rare cases serious or fatal ones; aggravation of a pre-existing condition; and injury caused by equipment, facility conditions, or the actions of other people present.

3.2 Voluntary participation. You are participating voluntarily. You may stop any exercise or session at any time, for any reason, including if something feels unsafe or causes you pain.

3.3 Your responsibility. You agree to follow instructions, to use equipment as directed, to tell your trainer if something hurts or feels wrong during a session, and to stay within your own physical limits.

4. Release and Waiver of Liability

4.1 What you are releasing. To the fullest extent permitted by law, you release, waive, and discharge Fluxline Resonance Group, LLC, its owners, employees, contractors, and trainers from any and all liability, claims, demands, or causes of action arising out of ordinary negligence in connection with your participation in the Services, including claims for personal injury, illness, or death.

4.2 What this does not cover. This release does not apply to, and does not waive, any claim arising from gross negligence, willful misconduct, or any liability that cannot be waived under applicable law. Nothing in this document limits any consumer protection or other legal right that cannot be waived by agreement.

5. Emergency Medical Care

If you are injured or become ill during a session, Fluxline may contact emergency medical services and the emergency contact you provided in Part 1. You authorize Fluxline to arrange or facilitate emergency medical care on your behalf if you are unable to make that decision yourself, and you agree that you are responsible for any costs of that care.

6. Photographs and Recordings

From time to time, Fluxline may photograph or record a session for your own progress tracking, or, with your separate written consent, for marketing purposes. Progress photos and videos taken for your own use are not shared without your permission. No photo or video of you will be used publicly without your specific, separate consent.

7. Governing Law

This document is governed by the laws of the State of Utah, consistent with Section 20 of Fluxline's Terms of Use. If a dispute arises under this document, the dispute-resolution process in that section applies.

8. General

8.1 Entire agreement for this service. This document, together with Fluxline's Terms of Use, is the entire agreement between you and Fluxline regarding personal training and wellness Services. It does not replace any separate statement of work or client agreement you may have signed for other services.

8.2 Severability. If any part of this document is found unenforceable, the rest remains in effect.

8.3 Duration. This document covers your participation in personal training and wellness Services with Fluxline on an ongoing basis, until you tell us in writing that you withdraw your consent, or until your service agreement ends, whichever comes first.

8.4 Separate signature required. Agreeing to the Terms of Use when you create a Fluxline account does not sign this document. You sign it separately, below.

9. Acknowledgment and Signature

- The information you gave in Part 1 is true and complete.
