Stewardship Charter

Fluxline Resonance Group, LLC, doing business as Fluxline
Version: 2.0
Effective Date: November 20, 2026
Last Updated: November 20, 2026
Replaces: Stewardship Contract effective November 6, 2026

What this is

This is our promise about how we treat people. It is not a price list or a privacy table. It is the standard we hold ourselves to when we serve a client, answer a reader, build an app, or take a payment. The Terms of Use, Preorder Terms, Privacy Policy, and Responsible AI Usage policy say exactly what happens. This charter says how we mean to carry it out. It is not a contract and is not part of the Terms of Use or any agreement you sign.

1. Philosophy of Stewardship

Stewardship means looking after something that is not only ours: your time, your trust, your information, your growth. We approach our work through emotional intelligence, sustainable growth, authentic partnership, and ethical practice. We hold ourselves to Identity Coherence: what we say, what we build, and what we do should be one thing. A promise is a pattern held over time, and we would rather be measured by an ordinary Tuesday than by this page.

Our core values are clarity, transformation, precision, warmth, and inclusivity.

2. Who This Covers

This charter applies to everyone we serve: clients of our professional services; readers of our books; buyers in our store; members and users of our apps and the RCF AI Companion; and visitors, listeners, and subscribers.

3. Your Rights and Protections

3.1 Clarity. You have the right to understand what you are buying, what happens next, and why. We explain our processes in plain words, and we answer questions when you ask.

3.2 Privacy. Your information is yours. We keep as little as we can, we tell you what we keep, and we do not sell it. The Privacy Policy sets out the details.

3.3 Quality. You have the right to work and products made with care, skill, and attention.

3.4 Autonomy. You may accept or decline our recommendations, pause services where the arrangement allows, and seek other opinions. Your decisions are yours.

4. How We Build and Sell

These are the commitments that sit under our products and checkout.

4.1 No dark patterns.
We make cancelling as easy as signing up, in one step. We do not put save offers, discounts, surveys, or guilt in the way. We do not use countdown clocks, false scarcity, or pressure. We tell you before a renewal charge, in good time. A purchase that does not need to renew will not renew by surprise.

4.2 Honest timing.
We give release windows and not false promises. If something is late, we tell you plainly, and we give you a fair way out.

4.3 Plain pricing.
We show the price before you pay. If buying through an app store costs more because of platform fees, we say so at the point of choice.

4.4 Privacy by design.
We design our systems so that sensitive things are not collected in the first place. We store little. Anything beyond what delivering your purchase requires is something you turn on, and you can turn it off. We do not train AI on your content. We do not sell your information, and the store and the Companion show no ads. When you delete, we delete in a way that cannot be traced back to you.

4.5 AI that assists.
AI is a tool in our hands, and it is not a decision-maker over yours. We tell you when AI is in the loop. Our AI features cite their sources, do not pretend to be people, do not give personal advice, and stop rather than guess when a safety check cannot run. You can turn AI off in our apps.

4.6 Care in hard moments.
When someone may be at risk, we show them carefully written, clinician-reviewed words and not improvised ones. We do not sell, upsell, or pitch in those moments.

4.7 Calm by design.
We design our apps so that they do not shame you for being human. We design them without streaks as status, red badges, or reprimanding notifications. We make mistakes and we make small changes, and so do you.

4.8 Adults only.
Our services are for people 18 and older, and we write for adults. We do not ask for your birthdate to prove it. If a minor ends up with an account, we close it and make it right.

4.9 Access for everyone.
We design toward WCAG 2.2 AA and welcome reports of barriers.

5. Professional Commitments

5.1 Competence. We work within our skills, and we say when something is outside them.

5.2 Integrity. We are honest. We disclose conflicts of interest. We do not promise unrealistic results.

5.3 Respect. We respect your time, your culture, and your boundaries.

5.4 Confidentiality. What you share in a professional engagement stays confidential. That duty continues after the work ends.

6. Scope of Services and Boundaries

We offer business consulting; web and app development; brand and experience design; education and training; personal training and wellness; and life coaching. Each has limits that we respect:

- Personal training and wellness are not medical care.
- Coaching is not therapy.
- Our books, programs, apps, and AI features are educational and experiential. They are not medical, mental health, legal, financial, or tax advice.
- Where you need a licensed professional, we say so.

7. Mutual Responsibilities

What we ask of you. Share honest information. Take part. Give us feedback. Honor the payment terms of your agreement.

What we commit to. Deliver to the agreed timeline. Communicate before problems grow. Treat you with respect.

8. Conflict Resolution

If something goes wrong, we want to fix it with you.

1. Talk to us. Write to support@fluxline.pro. We aim to resolve it informally.
2. Formal review. If that does not resolve it, you can ask for a formal review meeting with us. This is an optional courtesy, not a required step.
3. The binding process. The process that governs disputes is in Section 20 of the Terms of Use: informal resolution, then mandatory mediation, then binding arbitration. Asking for a formal review meeting does not change that process or its timelines.

9. Ethical Standards

We follow applicable laws and the professional codes that apply to our work. We do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or any other protected characteristic. We favor sustainable practices in how we work.

10. Termination and Transition

Either of us may end an engagement, with notice, for cause, or by mutual agreement. When an engagement ends, we will finish urgent work, hand over your files and documentation, and keep our confidentiality duties. For apps and products, leaving should not trap your data: where an app offers an export, it uses an open format that you can read with any compatible tool.

11. Feedback and Improvement

We may ask for feedback, testimonials, or case-study participation. Taking part is always voluntary, and saying no never affects how we serve you.

12. What This Charter Is and Is Not

This charter states the standards we hold ourselves to. It is a public statement of our values and operating standards, not a contract. It creates no contractual obligations, it is not incorporated into the Terms of Use or any agreement you sign, it does not guarantee any particular result, and it does not give anyone a right to damages. If a practice described here differs from what actually happened to you, tell us at support@fluxline.pro. We will treat it as a serious problem.

13. Contact and Support

Email: support@fluxline.pro
Office hours: Monday to Friday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM Mountain Time. Emergency support for clients is described in your service agreement.

If you or someone else is in immediate danger, contact your local emergency services. Fluxline is not an emergency service.